Gilbane Building Company and ka architecture Selected for Cleveland Indians Premium Club Renovation Project

With construction managed by Gilbane Building Company and design by ka architecture, the Cleveland Indians embark on a renovation project aimed at transforming luxury suites into a new, state-of-the-art lounge

Cleveland, Ohio – December 17, 2012 – Gilbane Building Company and ka architecture have been selected by the Cleveland Indians to provide Design-Build services for the Premium Club Renovation Project at Progressive Field. Design and Preconstruction activities began in November 2012 for this fast-tracked project, with expected completion in March 2013.

The Premium Club project consists of renovating 10 existing suites and corridor space on the press level into a single new club featuring excellent views and all-inclusive upscale cuisine. The scope of this project includes new balcony seating, new field side glazing system, new private restrooms, sports bar, interior finishes and mechanical, electrical, and plumbing upgrades.

In addition to Gilbane and ka architecture, the design-build team consists of Populous for interior architecture; and Thorson Baker Associates, for structural and mechanical/electrical engineering.
