

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

ka Welcomes Two Architects to its Staff

Cleveland, OH (February 19, 2013) – ka is pleased to announce two additions to its staff of leading professionals. Ibrahim Hakki rejoined ka as Senior Project Architect, and Bradley Saeger recently rejoined the firm as an Architect.

With 20 years of architectural experience, Hakki has amassed wealth of commercial experience for a variety of public and private clients. As graduate of Kent State University and a firm leader in Revit best practices, his technical expertise puts him on the forefront of building information modeling. Outside the office, Hakki is president of the Construction Specifications Institute and serves as an instructor at Polaris Career Center.

Saeger earned a bachelor's degree in architecture at Lawrence Technical University. He is a LEED accredited professional and registered in the State of Arizona. Saeger's array of experience includes a multitude of commercial and residential projects. Outside of the office, he is an instructor at ITT Akron.

"We are happy to welcome back both Brad and Ibrahim to the ka team," says John Burk, President and Chief Operating Officer. "Their technical expertise and creativity complement our firm's continued growth."

About ka

ka is a nationally recognized architecture firm based in Cleveland, Ohio, with an emphasis on providing value-added design services to clients in a range of marketplaces. The firm's work includes open-air shopping centers, regional malls, department stores, hospitality, corporate office, multi-family residential and higher education facilities in 41 states, Puerto Rico, Canada and Mexico. For more information, please visit www.kainc.com.

Contact: Kristen Gould, 216.830.1570, kgould@kainc.com

###